Home Use Training and Certification

Biofeedback equipment can be sent home with clients or purchased for home use so they can practice at home and thus speed up the treatment process. Adverse reactions to biofeedback training are overall rare, and when they occur they are relatively transient or readily dealt with by competent practitioners (Hammond, 2001; Schwartz & Schwartz, 1995). How can a home practitioner deal with an adverse reaction if the practitioner is not available? Vaso-Vagal Syncope can be very dangerous. Relaxation induced anxiety is reported to occur in up to 40% of individuals getting some form of relaxation training and the anxiety may be a sign of underlying pathology (Smith, 1985). Theta training can reportedly induce both seizures and extremely traumatic material (Stockdale & Hoffman, 2001), or even depression (Nash, 2001). Theta training can occur as a result of direct training using EEG biofeedback or it can occur as a result of deep relaxation training via some other mode of biofeedback training.

Clearly, before home training is considered, a home practitioner should have a good base training from ABC mentors. They should have ruled out a history of seizures, post-traumatic stress disorder, identity disorders, or other conditions that might result in predictable, adverse side effects; and should have conducted enough mentor supervised sessions to minimize the risk of adverse reactions during home training. In addition, informed consent should have been obtained that indicates that adverse reactions do rarely occur and that if they occur, clients are to stop the home training and consult with the practitioner to determine the next step or steps in treatment. Sometimes, reassurance is all that is necessary, and other times, intervention requires that a practitioner have a good background in psychotherapy. Nash (2001) recommends that home practitioners unlicensed in a mental health discipline, not provide treatment for DSM IV diagnostic conditions unless supervised by someone who is so licensed and thus competent to intervene if and when adverse reactions occur.

The ABC and IMUNE offer training in return for Karma payment. A mentor should be used to make sure there is a competent use. These home use practitioners should not or do not need to get a more advanced biofeedback certificate or license. But some training is important.

Get a mentor, take the training, take the tests, and get your home use certificate.

The SCIO, Indigo Plus Pro, Eductor, Nelson 15, Ascelpios, Educator systems are all class 2 medical devices used for a variety of functions registered in America Europe and around the world. As a class 2 medical device it should be bought under a prescription of a licensed health care practitioner or biofeedback professional. Thus a licensed practitioner could prescribe one for a student to learn with, or for an individual to use for their health care concerns.

The functions on this HOME USE page have been approved for use with the system. There are spontaneous cures noted by therapists but most clients will need long term exposure to the system to get results. The system can be rented for home use with a prescription from a licensed health care practitioner.

These functions listed on this next page are some of the functions that can be prescribed for use at home. The home use will be limited to only these functions. Your trained therapist will advise you further on its use.

EXAM Questions

Validation, Verification, Substantiation

1. If you want to be a biofeedback technician you should have a legal biofeedback device
   T/F
2. If you want to be a biofeedback technician you should have a legal biofeedback software
   T/F
3. You do not need to have the real validated software you can lie to yourself and your patients and use whatever fraudulent shit you want  T/F
4. Stories are Validation  T/F
5. Testimonials are Verification  T/F
6. A really good story is Validation  T/F
7. I mean a really really really really really good story is Validation  T/F

9. If he has a nice suit, a good watch, and a really really good story it is validation  T/F
10. A safety test CE mark allows you to make a medical claim
    T/F
11. Alternative medicine people are above the law
    T/F
12. The validation process gives official sanction, confirmation, or approval to procedures, medical devices, documents, etc.  T/F
13. Verification is the act of disproving the correctness of systems such as i.e.: software with internal memory and software expressed as source code?  T/F
14. WHPRS is an independent consumer service for medical devices  T/F
15. Testimonials document legally that a process or system meets its pre-determined specifications and quality attributes  T/F
16. Stories are valid peer reviewed documentations and prove the efficacy of any product  T/F
The challenge in today’s market is to substantiate and validate the claims a company uses in the market. Alternative medicine has long harbored people with vague unverified and often completely fraudulent claims. Some people feel that all of alternative medicine is fraudulent. It must be pointed out that most of alternative medicine is not properly validated. It is the job of alternative medicine people to band together and develop criteria for validation and a system to rate the claims made by a company and publically present this rating in a fashion to be used to defend these claims in the market place. To this end the World Health Professional Rating System (WHPRS) has been developed. Here is a basic simple outline for the rating system.

Laws and Regulations

1. I understand the platinum rating of the World Health Products Rating Service T/F
2. WHPRS rating -1 is Fraudulent or stolen technology that only appears to do what it says they do. T/F
3. WHPRS rating 0 is Divination techniques using the human subtle muscle control of the therapist, like muscle testing for remedies, or point probes, these are considered by the law to be fraudulent T/F
4. WHPRS rating 1= MAGICAL THINKING SCIENCE- here pseudo-science, unproven theories, or futuristic notions that might be proven correct in the future are used to market a device/product. Schuman wave generators, diodes for radiation diversion are examples. T/F
5. WHPRS rating 2= SCIENTIFIC THEORY- here true accepted science is used to explain how the device/product works but there is no real validation, verification or proof that it works. T/F
6. WHPRS rating 3 = SCIENCE + DEVICE STUDIES- here the device/product is bench tested for performance specs and compared to other devices legally sold in the market. T/F
7. WHPRS rating 4= SCIENCE + DEVICE STUDIES+ SAFETY Registration- here your device is safety tested to CE standards to prove your device/product is safe to market. T/F
8. WHPRS rating 5= SCIENCE + DEVICE STUDIES+ SAFETY Registration+ MEDICAL CLAIM
   Registration- here your device/product is proven safe, and effective for medical uses in the claims you specify in your registration. T/F
9. WHPRS rating 6= TESTIMONIALS, STORIES OR clinical studies done by your personal staff.
   Proper Ethics Committees and or Institutional Review Boards are needed, as well as informed consent and full compliance with the Helsinki research accord. T/F 10. WHPRS rating 7= Independent Medically Supervised Studies. Proper Ethics Committees and or Institutional Review Boards are needed, as well as informed consent and full compliance with the Helsinki research accord. T/F
11. WHPRS rating 8= Double Blind Independent Medically Supervised Studies. Proper Ethics
    Committees and or Institutional Review Boards are needed, as well as informed consent and full compliance with the Helsinki research accord. Bronze rating. T/F 12. WHPRS rating 9= Medically supervised, independently researched, double blinds, Peer reviewed medical journal publication that validates to significance the function of your device/product. 40 patients needed to start significance and a thousand plus for full verification.
    Silver Rating. T/F
13. WHPRS rating 10= Taught in accredited medical universities and your device/product appears or your peer reviewed medical studies are quoted in certified medical textbooks. This takes a minimum of seven years in peer reviewed medical journals. Gold rating. T/F 14. WHPRS rating 11= European or Governmental Professional Work Qualifications for using the device. The SCIO is an example of a device that has met each and every criterion on this list to get a Platinum rating. T/F
15. Only the SCIO, Eductor, Nelson 15, Indigo Plus, Indigo Pro have the full 11 WHPRS
    Platinum rating
16. I should check any printed claim with the IMUNE staff to verify if it is legal. T/F

Stress is THE Medical Concern Exam

1. The term “stress”, as it is currently used was coined by Hans Selye in 1936, who defined it as “the non-specific response of the body to any demand for change”. T/F
2. SCIO/Eductor measure stress responses to stressors T/F
3. Reducing the stressors reduces disease T/F
4. Stress in addition to being itself, was also the cause of itself, and the result of itself T/F
5. Stress had been used for centuries in physics to explain elasticity, the property of a material that allows it to resume its original size and shape after having been compressed or stretched by an external force. T/F
6. Stress can be helpful and good when it motivates people to accomplish more. T/F
7. Stress can cause blockages in the body which in turn causes an accumulation of toxins, which can build up and be the beginning of degenerative diseases. T/F
8. Smoking is stressing the whole body. T/F
9. Excessive exercise can cause cardiovascular stress T/F
10. Malnutrition does not stress the organism T/F
SCIO/Indigo/Eductor Training

1. The SOC panel is an additional feature which does not need to be used with every patient/client. T/F
2. The therapist can always use the devise in subspace and achieve the same results. T/F
3. Voltage, Amperage, Resistance, Hydration, Oxygen, Electron pressure, Cellular vitality indicate in what state the patient/client’s body is in. T/F
4. The SCIO/Indigo/ Eductor can be directed to perform more detailed analysis of specific items. T/F
5. The device does not diagnose any issue other than stress. T/F
6. The practitioner has no involvement in the results of the testing. T/F
7. The practitioner may diagnose health issues according to the findings on the device regardless of his/her qualifications. T/F
8. The practitioner does not need any further education other than the basic course in how to use the devise. T/F
9. The SCIO provides health and lifestyle information and gives Energetic Therapy for possible areas of stress. T/F
10. Biofeedback may be used to improve health, performance, and the physiological changes which often occur in conjunction with changes to thoughts, emotions, and behavior. T/F

You should never make any printed claim for the device. Do NOT say the SCIO, Indigo, Eductor etc cured me. This is wrong. You might say angioplasty cured me by opening up my heart vessels, but you would not say “Bobs Angioplasty Machine” cured me. In other words you can reference the technique and you should NOT advertise the device. The technique is Quantum Biofeedback the devices are from EPFX SCIO technology. You can refer to the technique of Quantum Biofeedback not the device.

Please check any written adverts with us to see if there is a problem. Be careful with all claims.

If you claim stress reduction can improve you will be safe.
