HOMEOPATHIC TREATMENT OF PROSTATITIS

Abstract:

In this paper a review of prostatitis is undertaken. A case review of patients having prostatitis who took a complex homeopathic is also reviewed. This shows that the complex homeopathic indeed offers a potential solution to prostate problems.

Key Words:

Prostate, prostatitis, Prostate homeopathic, Herbal Liquid Bee Pollen, Kidney, Prostate, Adrenal; male disturbances

Introduction:

Prostate cancer is indeed a primary problem in America, as it is a primary killer of men over forty. Most of these cancers start with prostatitis. The prostate is a major part of health problems, in that three of every ten men will have prostatitis in their later years (between the ages of forty and fifty). Five of every ten men between fifty and sixty will have prostatitis, and eight of ten men between sixty and seventy will display some type of prostate symptoms.
The prostate is a doughnut-shaped gland that produces a male sex hormone among other things. It surrounds the urethra tube which carries urine from the bladder through the penis. If the prostate becomes swollen, it can interfere with the flow of urination. Thus many prostate problem symptoms include inability to urinate (in extreme cases), restricted flow of urine (in moderate cases), and inability to hold much urine (normal voids should be approximately slightly less than a cup). If the patient describes urinating with much less volume than usual, that is another symptom of prostate problems.

Men will remember their twenties, when they were able to urinate and squirt a stream a long distance. If they do not have that ability any more, and it is extremely noticeable, this is also a symptom of prostate problems. Dribbling, or an inability to hold urine, is another symptom. In extreme cases pain will occur behind the penis and inward.

Yearly palpation of the prostate is recommended for men over forty-five. A medical doctor, by inserting a finger anally, can palpate the prostate to determine whether it is swollen, hard, or possibly cancerous.

Prostate disturbances can be demonstrated in an over-development of bad testosterone, which can result in premature balding. This is sometimes an associated symptom. It is known that balding can result from a build-up of testosterone, or badly-manufactured testosterone (the testosterone may squeeze the follicle and produce balding).

This type of testosterone is counteracted by fatty acids. Many people do not get enough fatty acids in their diets because of over-cooking and over-processing of foods. This results in an imbalance, and a build-up of testosterone. If there is excess testosterone, this may not only cause balding, but the liver has to detoxify the excess testosterone.

Bringing a balance of fatty acids into the diet is very important in the process of treating a prostate case. Giving patients ten drops of Fatty Acid Liquescence every day will bring the free fatty acid level of the body to normal, and will help to treat the basic metabolism.

For premature balding, one key fatty acid that fights testosterone is found in a natural herb. This herb was known by Pliny as the "food of the eunuch". He found that people who imbibed too much of this food would lower their male tendencies. Little did he know that this was tied to a testosterone molecule. This food was lettuce. If taken in juice form or at too high a quantity, lettuce can have lowering effects on the male hormone. If just the right amount is taken, it can relieve balding factors and has some effect on prostatitis. We do not recommend lettuce juice for internal use unless there are extremely large amounts of testosterone. But by massaging lettuce juice into the scalp vigorously on a daily basis, some hair loss can be stopped. The lettuce juice works directly on the follicle, and does not get into the body to affect testosterone elsewhere.

Thus the fatty acid (ten drops, three times a day) and vigorous massage of the scalp with lettuce juice can help prevent premature male balding.

In the treatment of any prostate disturbance, a healthy blend of sarcodal tissue (Kidney, Prostate, Adrenal formula) should be used. This formula also can help to detox and promote rebuilding of tissue in those areas.

Methods:

In our study twenty-two men between the ages of forty-two and sixty-five had presented with prostate involvement. These men were given Prostate homeopathic and Herbal Liquid Bee Pollen. It has long been known that bee pollen is excellent in preventing prostate problems. There is a high amount of zinc and other nutrients in bee pollen. Our Herbal Liquid Bee Pollen, as we show in the study on "Sports Performance", can accelerate the amount of absorption because of its liquid form.

Of these cases using the Prostate formula and Herbal Liquid Bee Pollen, all except two reported that they were able to keep their prostate conditions under control by using these products. They were indeed happy at the success they had by using the products.

Two of the men found that taking the products was very difficult to work into their lifestyles, and thus they resorted to other processes and medical doctors. They were not heard from again. It may be speculated that perhaps the program did not work for them, or perhaps taking the products was difficult for their lifestyles.

In the case of prostate cancer, as with other cases of prostate, the liver must be treated. Liver Liquescence is an excellent formula to clean out, detoxify, and promote rebuilding of liver tissue. In the case of prostate cancer, the swelling of tissues actually can be irritated by testosterone. Here we must use lots of lettuce juice, Fatty Acid Liquescence and, of course, Liver Liquescence. Also, the Oriental Herb Prostate is an excellent formula to deal with those cases. Degex homeopathic also helps to fight degenerative disease, as we’ve shown in our study on “Degenerative Disease”.

In any case of prostate cancer extreme stress reduction is a must. Testosterone is also made in the adrenal gland. The adrenal gland can manufacture any known hormone. For every ten molecules of adrenaline made, one molecule of testosterone is made by adrenal glands. Thus in a state of over-accelerated stress, where lots of adrenaline is made, excess male hormone can be manufactured, as well. A homeopathic of luteinizing release hormone (LRH) can be very helpful too, as it interferes with the natural development of testosterone. LRH is a pituitary hormone.

Total stress reduction is a must. There have been seven known medical cases of people who have beat prostate cancer; in each case the theme was total stress reduction. A judge in Boston, upon finding out he had prostate cancer, quit his job. He went into an RV unit, and totally relaxed. He was able to beat the cancer and live a long and productive life. Others have been able to do the same, but only with stress reduction.

Results and Discussion:

We can see from our review of the case notes that complex homeopathy indeed offers help for some of the disturbances related to prostate conditions. Good homeopathic sarcodes and herbal formulas can be blended to produce reasonable treatment for these disturbances.

By having a formula that is easy to use and symptomatologically directed, the practicing naturopath or homeopath can get better results with his patients more quickly and easily.
